ETHICS

"Issues of Armenian History" scientific periodical publishes articles devoted to the ancient and medieval, new and modern periods of Armenian history. Articles in the periodical are published free of charge in Armenian, Russian, English and other European languages. The periodical is published twice a year.

Authors can submit articles for the first issue of the current year until May 15, and for the second issue until November 15. Articles should be sent to the e-mail hayotspatmutyanhartser@gmail.com, or submit to the editorial office: Yerevan, Marshal Baghramyan ave. 24/4. All submitted articles are sent for blind peer review. If the article is rejected or sent for re-editing, the author is informed through the e-mail of the periodical. The editor guarantees the confidentiality of the reviewer's name. Reviews are made on a special form provided by the editorial office, confirmed by the reviewer's signature. The decision on publication is made by the members of the editorial staff after familiarizing themselves with the articles, at the session of the editorial board. Before the publication of the article, the author familiarizes himself with the electronic version of the current issue of the periodical, giving his consent.

STANDARDS

The submitted works must meet the following requirements:

Comply with the format of the periodical (topic, style, scientific system).

They should not have been published before and should contain a certain novelty.

Submitted articles and reports must have a volume of up to 15 pages (A4 format, margins: 3.2 top, 3 bottom, 2.25 right, left, line spacing: 1.5), including summaries and bibliography.

The volume of review and information materials should not exceed 6 pages.

The font of the Armenian text is GHEA Grapalat (text and summaries: 12 font, references 9 font), in the case of other languages – Times New Roman. In the upper right corner of the first page, it is necessary to indicate the author's name, surname, patronymic, title, workplace, e-mail address. The title of the article and the author's name, surname and patronymic are indicated in capital letters. The aforementioned data are also mentioned before the summaries.

The articles should be arranged according to the structural division. introduction, at least two titled subsections with a clearly reflected discussion of the issues, conclusions, as well as summaries, in the case of an Armenian article, in Russian and English (150-250 words). In the case of a foreign language article, it is necessary to submit summaries in Armenian and, respectively, in Russian/non-language. Summaries should be a concise summary of the text. At the end of each summary, as after the title of the article, it is necessary to indicate key words in the relevant language (at least seven words).

The articles should be arranged according to the structural division; introduction, at least two titled subsections with a clearly reflected discussion of the issues, conclusions, as well as summaries, in the case of an Armenian article, in Russian and English (150-250 words). In the case of a foreign language article, it is necessary to submit summaries in Armenian and, respectively, in Russian. Summaries should be a concise summary of the text. At the end of each summary, as after the title of the article, it is necessary to indicate key words in the relevant language (at least seven words).

References are given in the footnotes: the author's last name, the year of publication of the work and the page. Notes are also presented in footnotes on the principle of references.

The complete list of bibliography is indicated after the text in alphabetical order; surname, the initial of the name, year, title, place of publication, printing house and number of pages. In the case of periodicals, only the places of publication are indicated. The list of used literature should be presented in the following order: Armenian, Russian, and English. The addresses of Internet articles and websites should be indicated in full and, if possible, the date when you last accessed that website.

In case images, tables and maps are included in the article, they should have a density of at least 300 (300 dpi). It is necessary to number and title the images, tables and maps in the article.